DENVER MAN LOST $1,000 POLICE ARE NOW SEARCHING High school site on the east side. Bids FOR C. F. HUFFMAN.

William Polter, a Denver restaurant man, is in Salt Lake looking for C. F. Huffman, with whom he recently entrusted $1,000 to start a fashionable cafe in the basement of the Boston building where Huffman had offices as a real es tate man. Huffman cannot be found, and the police of half a dozen states sur-rounding Utah are looking for him. He is also alleged to have made gross misrep-resentations to the Central Christian resentations to the church of Salt Lake.

R. H. Esseibach, head deacon of the Central Christian church, stated last night that Huffman had interested that congregation in the purchase of a new organ. Posing as a man disposed toward making contributions to churches of the Christian persuasion, Huffman signed his name to a subscription list for the organ, placing figures against it ranging up in the thousands. The church became enthusiastic over the contribution with the result that hundreds of smaller amounts were quickly added Huffman disappeared after he had expressed a desire to enter the church and become one of its memthe church and become one of its mem

Suave Solicitor Takes Sub- Board of Education Authorizes Committee to Take Action.

> At the meeting of the board of education last night it was decided to open bids on February 19, up to noon, for a grounds committee of the board, but no date was set for the next board meeting. No site of less than 20x20 rods will be considered. Many real estate men have appeared before the board with propositions, but all have been told that they must submit their bids with the rest, from which the board may pick a site for the new High school, for which $500,000 in bonds was voted last month.

A letter was received from Mrs. Theo . Brooks, submitting to the board the proposition of purchasing three by seven rods of ground immediately adoining the Wasatch school on the east. The number is 1070 First avenue. Mrs. Brooks wants $5,075 for the property, claming that the establishment of the Wasatch school has damaged the property, and that it has been ruined for residence purposes because of the many school children who run across the

Police Have Not Interfered With Press Club Show Today

THE fact that several members of the Press club show committee were driven to the police in the patrol wagon yesterday afternoon, gave rise to the rumor that the gentlemen had been arrested, and that probably there would be some hitch in the arrangements for giving the Press club's great vaudeville show at the theatre this afternoon and evening. President Evans of the club made this statement in regard to the matter late last night, which clears will be opened by the buildings and the matter up perfectly and removes all doubt about the incident:

"All there was to the whole affair is simply this: There had been some questions raised as to whether the films the Jeffries-Johnson prizefight in Utah, to be presented on the killotime in the show Wednesday, were of an improper nature, and the committee decided to run them off in the presence of the authorities and other competent judges. This we did this afternoon in the basement of the Luna theatre, After the pictures had been exhibited, Judge McMaster of the juvenile court, there could not possibly be any objection raised by anyone. We agreed to act on his advice, and to show our good faith in the matter, we said we would immediately take the films to the police presence of the officers. Chief Barlow
